

INTRODUCTION

Below you will find a sample introduction for Dr. Candice McDonald. A shortened biography is also available for introductions.

DR. CANDICE MCDONALD

Today's keynote speaker is...different. By combining insightful business practices and research with real-life experiences, Dr. Candice McDonald promises to help improve our organizations without putting any of us to sleep. Dr. Candice knows a little something about creating change. She went from sleeping in a shelter to working for NASA. She is a federal agent, an adjunct professor in marketing and homeland security, and has served as a volunteer first responder for almost two decades. She has spoken to first responders, businesses, and nonprofit organizations from across the globe. She is here today to challenge AND inspire you to do things a little differently. Please welcome Dr. Candice McDonald.
